

Basic Ability Test (BAT)

Cost $40.00

Effective January 1, 2002, individuals seeking entry into the Law Enforcement Basic Recruit Training, Corrections Basic Recruit Training and Cross Training to Law Enforcement or Corrections programs are required to successfully complete a Basic Ability Test.

Indian River State College uses the Basic Ability Test developed by Morris & McDaniel, Inc. The BAT series is designed for admission into law enforcement officer or correctional officer training. Each of these disciplines uses a unique test, measuring deductive reasoning, information ordering, inductive reasoning, memorization, problem sensitivity, spatial orientation, written comprehension, and written expression. This test is given via the computer. Minimal computer skills are required – using a mouse, typing information, and scrolling up and down a computer screen.
